OCTOBER 2, 2026

I. INTRODUCTION AND PURPOSE

1. On August 25, 2025 (the "Bankruptcy Date"), 11449346 Canada Inc. ("P3") and 12574764 Canada Ltd. ("United Edge" and, together with P3, the "Companies") were deemed to have made assignments in bankruptcy by order of the Honourable Justice Kershman.

2. Albert Gelman Inc. ("AGI") was appointed as trustee in bankruptcy (in such capacity, the "Trustee") of both Companies.

3. The Trustee has prepared this report to address matters that have arisen in connection with its motion seeking, among other things, an order authorizing it to distribute proceeds of the Companies' assets to secured creditors. Such motion is addressed in greater detail in the First Report of the Trustee dated July 22, 2026 (the "First Report") and the First Supplement to the First Report dated July 22, 2026 (the "First Supplement").

4. The hearing of this motion was originally scheduled for August 5, 2026, however, it was opposed by Surgenor National Leasing Limited ("Surgenor"), a secured creditor of one of the Companies. The Trustee and Surgenor agreed to the adjournment of the motion to November 10, 2026. A copy of the Court's endorsement in connection with this adjournment is attached hereto as Appendix A.

5. The purpose of this Second Supplement to the First Report (the "Second Supplement"), is to provide the Court and stakeholders with information concerning events that have transpired since the August 5, 2026 hearing in this matter.

6. Capitalized terms not defined in this Second Supplement have the meanings given to them in the First Report and the First Supplement.

7. This Second Supplement is subject to the scope and terms of reference in the First Report.

II. SURGENOR DISPUTE

8. As set out in the First Report, the Trustee has determined that Surgenor has a valid secured claim against P3. A copy of Surgenor's Proof of Claim is attached hereto as Appendix B.

9. The Secured Claim Distribution Scheme contemplates payment of the proceeds of Surgenor's security, being a Chevrolet Silverado truck (the "Surgenor Collateral"), after payment of the CRA's deemed trust claim and the fees of the Trustee and its counsel from those proceeds (because those amounts rank in priority to Surgenor's security interest, by statute).

10. On July 28, 2026, counsel to Surgenor sent a letter objecting to the Secured Claim Distribution Scheme on the basis that it had an ownership interest in the Surgenor Collateral and, therefore, was entitled to all of the proceeds of the Surgenor Collateral. A copy of this letter is attached hereto as Appendix C.

11. The Trustee disagrees with the Surgenor's position and is of the view that Surgenor did not have an ownership interest in its collateral, but merely a security interest, which security interest is subject to the claims of other security creditors in priority thereto. In particular, the Trustee is of the view that:

(a) Surgenor is estopped from asserting ownership of its security because:

(i) Surgenor filed a Proof of Claim asserting that its claim is in the nature of a secured creditor claim. Surgenor did not file a "Reclamation of Property" form under s. 81 of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act, which it was required to do if it wished to assert an ownership interest in the proceeds of the Surgenor Collateral held by the Trustee; and

(b) Surgenor has acquiesced in the face of Court orders made in July 2025 that (1) approved the sale of the Surgenor Collateral to a purchaser and (2) authorized the Trustee to make payments from the sale proceeds on account of its fees, the fees of its counsel, the fees of the Companies' counsel and amounts outstanding to the debtor-in-possession financier in accordance with those parties super-priority charges. On November 18, 2025, counsel to the Trustee sent an email to Antonella Maddalena, a representative of Surgenor, advising of the approval and vesting order approving the sale of P3's assets. A copy of this email and its attachment are appended hereto as Appendix D. Having received a copy of this order, Surgenor filed a proof of claim, and did nothing to challenge the order until August 2026 – the Trustee is of the view that it is now too late for them to do so; and

(c) Even if it were still appropriate for Surgenor to take such a position, the agreement between Surgenor and the P3 was not in the nature of a "true lease," pursuant to which Surgenor possessed title to the Surgenor Collateral. The agreement was, instead, in the nature of a "financing lease," pursuant to which the benefits and burdens of ownership were conferred on P3, with Surgenor taking a security interest in the Surgenor Collateral in respect of P3's payment obligations to Surgenor.

12. The Trustee set out the basis for its position in a letter sent by its counsel to counsel to Surgenor on August 6, 2026. A copy of this letter is attached hereto as Appendix E.

13. On August 28, 2026, Surgenor commenced a motion seeking an order declaring that Surgenor is the owner and true lessor of the Surgenor Collateral, among other things.

14. The Trustee respectfully requests that the Court dismiss Surgenor's motion in its entirety, with costs payable to the Trustee as against Surgenor.

III. SERVICE OF MATERIALS ON CREDITORS

15. As detailed in the Trustee's First Report, service of proofs of claims was affected on creditors by courier or registered mail, or where creditors provided such contact details, by email.

16. Between May and August of 2026, the Trustee attempted service by mail of various correspondence, and motion materials on the PPSA registrants who had not yet filed a proof of claim, and, on those who had filed proofs of claim but were no longer reachable by email.

17. PPSA Registrants who have not yet filed proofs of claim of claim as of the date of this report, and who the Trustee has made multiple attempts to serve since May of 2026, include:

(a) 2597869 Ontario Inc.

(b) 9695435 Canada Inc.

(c) LBEL Inc. (now Northpoint Commercial Finance)

18. A complete recounting of the attempts to serve various creditors, including confirmations of delivery, is contained in the Affidavit of Emma Wheeler, sworn August 26, 2026. A copy of this affidavit is attached hereto as Appendix F.

a. Armada Financial Credit Corp.

19. Subsequent to the release of its First Report, and Supplementary First Report, the Trustee received a proof of claim from Armada Financial Credit Corp. (who claim to act as agent for Pivotal Capital Corp.) in respect of P3.

20. The proof of claim is missing fully executed copies of relevant documents and, accordingly, the Trustee is not presently able to opine on the claim. The Trustee notes it attempted to deliver notice of these proceedings and a request for proofs of claim to this creditor at their address listed in the PPSA register for P3 in July 2025. These attempts are described in the Affidavit of Emma Wheeler, sworn August 26, 2026, attached as Appendix G.

21. The Trustee will deliver a subsequent report if and when it receives further materials from this creditor in support of its claim.

IV. THE SECURED CLAIM DISTRIBUTION SCHEME

22. The Trustee has prepared the below summary of the Secured Claim Distribution Scheme for the benefit of stakeholders and the Court.

23. In short, the Trustee has developed its Secured Claim Distribution Scheme as follows:

(a) The remaining proceeds of the Companies' assets are $641,371.13;

(b) The Trustee has attributed 43.33% of those proceeds to P3 and 56.67% of those proceeds to United Edge;

(c) Because certain secured creditors have priority claims against only certain individual assets owned by the Companies (through purchase money security interests under the PPSA), the Trustee has had to attribute portions of the proceeds to individual assets. The Trustee did this by comparing the individual appraised value of each asset to the total appraised value of all the relevant company's assets; and

(d) The Trustee then applied creditor claims, in the appropriate order of priority, to the various assets of each of the Companies. As set out in the First Report, this was done as follows:

Docusign Envelope ID: 8232F098-9958-8868-81E9-E2C2C30EA9C3

(i) The fees and disbursements of the Trustee and its counsel were applied pro rata to all of the Companies' assets' proceeds (including a hold back for the Trustee's further fees);

(ii) The CRA's deemed trust claim was applied pro rata to the balance of all of P3's assets' proceeds;

(iii) Secured creditors' purchase money security interest claims were applied to the balance of the proceeds for their respective assets; and

(iv) Non-purchase money security interest claims were applied to the balance of the Companies' assets' proceeds.

24. The Trustee will assess whether it may be possible to consider distributions to unsecured creditors if and when the foregoing Secured Claim Distribution Scheme is implemented.

V. Date of PPSA Registration

25. On April 3, 2025, the Companies filed notices of intention to make proposals under the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act. A review of the PPSA register shows that no securities were registered after that date in respect of both companies, with the exception of 1394894 Ontario Inc. ("Deka").

26. Deka first purported to register a financing statement in the PPSA registry to perfect the Security on December 4, 2020. However, this financing statement was registered against "11449346 Ontario Inc." which is different than the legal name of P3, being "11449346 Canada Inc." On March 6, 2025, Deka registered a financing change statement in the PPSA registry which amended the name of the debtor in the aforementioned registration to "11449346 Canada Inc.," being the correct legal name for P3.

27. The Trustee is of the view that the perfection of Deka's security through the registration of such a financing change statement was not a breach of the stay of proceedings provided for in the Companies' notices of intention to make proposals and, accordingly, is of the view that Deka can properly rely on such registration in connection with its secured claim.

28. PPSA searches conducted on February 21, 2025 are attached as Appendix H.

I. DEKA'S REIVSED PROOF OF CLAIM

29. On July 30, 2026, Deka submitted a revised proof of claim in respect of P3 in the amount of $310,828.49, secured by a GSA, plus accrued and accruing interest. As noted in the Trustee's First Report, Deka's original proof of claim included a quantum of $543,436.52, plus accrued and accruing interest, secured by a GSA. Counsel to Deka advised that Deka had reduced its claim as a result of Deka realizing on payments from the former personal guarantors of P3.

30. The Trustee does not expect Deka's revised proof of claim to change the Secured Claim Distribution Scheme contained in the First Report and First Supplement.

All of which is respectfully submitted this 2nd day of October, 2026.

Re: In the Matter of the Bankruptcy of 11449346 Canada Inc. ("P3") and 12574764 Canada Ltd. ("United Edge")
Court File Nos. BK-25-03207793-0033 and BK-25-03207766-0033 (Estate Nos. 33-3207793 and 33-3207766, Division No. 12 – Ottawa)
Formal Appeal and Objection of Surgenor National Leasing Limited to the Secured Claim Distribution Scheme: True Lease / Ownership Claim

We are counsel to Surgenor National Leasing Limited ("Surgenor"), a creditor and lessor in the above-noted estates. We write on Surgenor's behalf to formally appeal and object to the treatment of Surgenor's claim in the Secured Claim Distribution Scheme (the "Distribution Scheme") set out in the Motion Record of Albert Gelman Inc. (the "Trustee") returnable August 5, 2026 (the "Motion"), and to place the Trustee on notice that, failing resolution of the matters raised below, Surgenor will oppose the Motion and seek the relief described in this letter.

1. Surgenor filed a proof of claim in the P3 estate in the amount of $82,256.36, plus accrued and accruing interest, which the Trustee has admitted. In the Distribution Scheme (Figures 3 and 5 of the First Report), the Trustee has characterized Surgenor as a purchase-money security interest ("PMSI") creditor and designated Surgenor a pro rata share of the PMSI equipment pool in the amount of $5,845.77 (approximately 14.3% of the P3 proceeds), calculated as the pool amount multiplied by the forced liquidation value of Surgenor's equipment over the aggregate forced liquidation value of all PMSI equipment.

2. Surgenor objects to that characterization and designation. Surgenor's agreements with P3 are true leases (See explanation of the law at Appendix "A"). Under those leases Surgenor is the owner of the equipment and P3 held only a possessory interest for the term. Surgenor is therefore a lessor asserting an ownership interest in its equipment, not a secured creditor claiming against the debtor's equity in the goods. The pro rata treatment applied to it is incorrect.

3. The consequences of the true-lease characterization are as follows:

    a. Pursuant to section 67(1) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (the "BIA"), the property divisible among a bankrupt's creditors comprises the property of the bankrupt and does not extend to property owned by a third party.

    b. Equipment owned by Surgenor as true lessor is not property of P3, did not vest in the Trustee, and is not available for distribution to the estate or to other creditors.

    c. Surgenor is accordingly entitled to the return of its equipment or, to the extent the Trustee has realized upon Surgenor's specific units, to the net proceeds of those units in priority to the estate and the other secured creditors, not to a pro rata fraction of a shared pool.

4. Surgenor registered its interest and is a perfected registrant, as the Trustee's own PPSA searches confirm. Surgenor's ownership interest is therefore fully protected against the Trustee.

5. The Distribution Scheme expressly excludes from the asset pool the "Leased Assets" that were dealt with through the assignment of leases to the Purchaser, and does not distribute their value. If the Trustee sold Surgenor's units for cash as though they were estate property, then Surgenor, as owner, is entitled to those proceeds in priority.

6. If Surgenor were found not to be the owner, which is not admitted but expressly denied, Surgenor holds a valid and perfected PMSI in the 2022 Chevrolet Silverado 3500HD, VIN 1GC3YSEY4NF356343 (the "Asset"). A PMSI confers first-ranking priority in that specific collateral and its proceeds. The net proceeds realized on that unit must be applied to satisfy Surgenor's secured claim in priority to all other creditors, and are not open to be shared with any other secured creditor unless and until Surgenor has been paid in full. Surgenor's claim of $82,256.36, plus interest, exceeds the realizable value of the unit; therefore, no portion of the proceeds of Surgenor's collateral is available for pro rata distribution to others. The pooling of Surgenor's collateral with that of other PMSI holders (each of whom holds security in different assets) is therefore incorrect even on the Trustee's own characterization.

Requested Resolution

7. Surgenor requests that the Trustee:

    a. revise the Distribution Scheme to treat Surgenor as the owner the Asset, and to return the Asset to Surgenor or pay to Surgenor the net proceeds realized in the Asset in priority to the estate and the other creditors;

b. provide (i) the appraisal and allocation supporting the forced liquidation value attributed to the Asset; (ii) confirmation of how the Asset was dealt with under the APA and AVO, and in particular whether it was assigned to the Purchaser or sold for cash consideration; (iii) the independent security/lease opinion obtained in respect of Surgenor, or the basis for the Trustee's characterization; and (iv) the waterfall analysis (Appendix "S") as it relates to Surgenor; and

c. confirm the Trustee's position in writing by no later than July 31, 2026, given the August 5, 2026 return date of the Motion.

8. If these matters are not resolved on the terms set out above, Surgenor will oppose the Motion, deliver responding materials, and ask the Court to determine that Surgenor's leases are true leases and that Surgenor is entitled to its equipment or the net proceeds of its units in priority, together with its costs.

We would welcome the opportunity to resolve this matter without the need for a contested hearing and are available to discuss at your convenience. We look forward to your response by August 2, 2026.

Yours truly,

Appendix "A"

Are Surgenor leases "true leases"?

Role of the parties

To examine the role of the parties, the courts have analyzed the specific circumstances and the business of the parties. This is also confirmed by the author Andrew McFarlane[1]. He states that although there is no rigid test to distinguish a financing lease from a true lease, there are a number of characteristics that have proved relevant such as the business of the lessor.

Our client is a supplier of the leased property and it maintains an inventory of similar property for lease which result in the conclusion that the agreement is a true lease.[2]

Crate Marine Sales Ltd., Re, 2015 ONSC 3338, para 27 [hereafter Crate] also supports this argument. Crate held that the lease agreement in dispute was a financing agreement because the lessor was not in the business of leasing travel lifts and instead was a brokerage selling travel lifts. That lease agreement was the first and only time in 14 years that the lessor entered into such an agreement. In contrast, our client enters into lease agreements on a daily basis because it is in the business of doing so.

Similarly, just like the lessor in Finchside International Ltd. v. Roy Foss Motors Ltd. (1994), 29 CBR (3d) 108, 1994 CarswellOnt 322 (Ont. Gen. Div.), our client is in the business of leasing motor vehicles; it maintains its own inventory of leasing vehicles; the parties negotiated the form of the lease; the lease is for a single vehicle; the lease was for a fixed term; and the option price at the end of the lease was for a price equal to at least 70% of the value of the vehicle. Based on these facts, it was held that this was a true lease, and therefore, did not require registration.

Intent of the parties

The intent of the parties can be determined from the terms of the lease and the circumstances surrounding the transaction. For example, the concern of the lessee with obtaining financing while upholding the use and possession of the leased property can result in concluding that the lease was intended as security. This can serve as evidence under the revised Act that the transaction in question secures payment or performance of an obligation as required by s. 2(a)(ii). However, this is not the case with our client. Our client is in the business of leasing, which is contrasted with Crate where the lessee picked out the Lift and the lessor then purchased it and entered into the Lease to sell the Lift to the lessee. In considering intention, the Judge explained that "[t]he clear purpose of the Lease, in my view, was to facilitate the sale of the Lift to Crate Marine."[3] This was not the case in our facts because our client is in the business of leasing and has an inventory of vehicles.

[2] Adelaide Capital Corp. v. Integrated Transport Finance Inc. (1994), 16 OR (3d) 414 (Ont. Gen. Div.) [Adelaide].
[3] Crate, supra 4 at para 27.

As the author Richard McLaren explains, under this part of the test, one must consider: (A) which party bears the ongoing responsibilities associated with ownership and (B) whether there is ultimately an option to purchase the leased property.[4]

(A) Ongoing responsibilities associated with ownership

Does the lessor reserve title in the leased property?

Unlike the contract in NDX Corp[5], the wording used in clause 7. TITLE of the agreement, paragraph 2 in "Schedule A" and paragraph 3 in "Schedule B" states that the lessor reserves title in the leased vehicles unless and until the original term shall have expired and that the same will be null and void in the event of termination of the lease or destruction of the leased vehicle. Clause 20. ASSIGNMENT AND SUBLET also supports this argument by stating that the lessee may not assign or sublet the property without the consent of the lessor. This provision implies that the lessor has authority on his reserved title.

The buyback provision is only exercised on the last day of the lease term. Therefore, based on the signed written agreement, the lessor reserves title until those dates and the lessee can only purchase at the expiration of the relevant lease.

As a result the agreement will be considered as a true lease and section XII.2.(g) §1054 of the CED confirms that by stating:

A vendor of merchandise may reserve title as against a purchaser or the trustee in bankruptcy of the purchaser simply by a written agreement wherein the title is clearly reserved, or, in the alternative, an oral agreement between the parties, which should be corroborated.

(B) Ultimately an option to purchase the leased property

Another distinguishing factor between a true lease and a financing lease is determining if the payments made during the term of the lease are payments for actual use of the vehicle. If that can be proven, the option to purchase at the end of the lease will be for fair market value.[6] Consequently, a financing lease is used as security that the property and the subject of the lease is ultimately passed to the lessee.
That said, in determining whether an agreement is a true lease or a financing lease, an option to purchase at expiration of the lease is an important factor to consider. Courts state that if the purchase price under the option is close to the fair market price, it is a strong indication that the agreement was a true lease.[7] However, if the price under the option is significantly less than fair market value (only a nominal sum) it can be argued that the agreement is a financing lease because it creates a security interest and must be registered.[8] The nominal value in question must be one that no lessee could logically resist.[9] In Ontario Equipment (1976) Ltd., Re [hereinafter Ontario Equipment][10] Henry J. held that:

It is the essence of a lease intended as security within the meaning of the Act that the property in the subject of the lease is to pass ultimately to the lessee, who is obliged to pay the lessor what might be reasonably regarded as the purchase price with interest and carrying charges over the life of the lease.
In our client's lease agreements, the lessee has the option to purchase the vehicle for residual value which the client, Andy Conde, confirms is equal to the fair market value (see Schedule "A").

In Crop & Soil Service Inc. v. Oxford Leaseway Ltd. [11], the lease agreement stipulated that the option to purchase at expiration was to be based on wholesale market value. Despite this provision, the court examined the substance of the transaction and determined that the essence of the agreement was to secure financial payment as opposed to a true lease. The court characterized the lease agreement as a financing arrangement. The court held:

While the form of contract between Municipal and the consumer is a "lease" under which the consumer has a right to possession for a term of months or years in exchange for a monthly stream of payments, the lessee does not fulfil his obligations to the lessor simply by making those monthly payments and by returning the vehicle in reasonable condition at the end of the lease. The lessee guarantees to the lessor that at the end of the lease the automobile will have a "residual value" in an amount specified at the commencement of the lease. At his or her option, the lessee may purchase the automobile for the "residual value" thus fulfilling his or her guarantee to the lessor. Alternatively, the lessor will sell the vehicle on a wholesale basis and deduct from the proceeds of sale the lessor's costs of sale, thus yielding the "net proceeds of sale". If the net proceeds of sale is less than the residual value, the lessee is obliged to pay the "deficiency" on demand. The amount of the residual value is essentially a function of the monthly payment to which the "lessor" and the "lessee" have agreed.
... the lessor holds title to the automobile as security for the promise of the lessee to make the stream of payments stipulated in the lease and to purchase the vehicle at the end of the term of the lease by paying whatever principal amount of the debt is then left outstanding ("the residual value").[12]

(2d) 33 (Ont. Gen. Div. [Commercial List]) — A vehicle lease with an option to purchase was not within the scope of the Act.
[11] (2000), 2000 CarswellOnt 1339, 15 P.P.S.A.C. (2d) 202 (Ont. C.A.). The lease also stipulated that certain factors such as excess mileage and poor mechanical condition could affect the vehicles' value. Additionally, it provided that, in the event of a return of the vehicles by the lessee during the currency of the lease, the lessee would be responsible for the amount of the value of the vehicles at that time.
[12] Crop & Soil Service Inc. v. Oxford Leaseway Ltd.

In contrast, in Ontario Equipment (1976) Ltd., Re[13], the lease agreement was found to be a true lease. In accordance to the terms of the lease, the lessee was responsible for most of the obligations of ownership, including insurance, maintenance, repairs and licensing. Additionally, at the expiration of the lease, the lessor was obligated to sell the vehicle at a price determined by the market and was entitled to recover a certain amount for itself. If the price was insufficient to that amount, the lessee was required to pay the remainder; if the price exceeded that amount, the lessee was entitled to the excess. Like our facts the lessee went bankrupt. Consequently, the trustee argued that the lease was intended as security and should have been registered comparing it to a conditional sales agreement because the property remained in the vendor until the purchase price was paid in full. The trustee did not succeed with this argument. Justice Henry held that a critical factor to consider in every case is the intention of the parties. In Ontario Equipment, Justice Henry highlighted that the lessee was not obligated to take title at expiration of the agreement and the option provided was one that a reasonable lessee may not have accepted. Additionally, the prospect of the lessee receiving a profit after the lessor sold the vehicle was consistent with the lessor holding out incentive to the lessee to maintain the value of the property during the terms of the agreement. In the Justice's opinion, these facts demonstrate that the intention was a straightforward lease agreement, and so, outside the scope of the prior Act.

That said, similarly, the Lease and Agreement at bar requires the lessee to also pay all the expenses of maintaining the vehicle (see clause 17. MAINTENANCE), licensing fees and insurance (see clause 15. INSURANCE and clause 9. OFFICIAL FEES AND TAXES). Additionally, the lessee was not obligated to take title at the end of the term as stipulated in Schedule "A" and the option in the agreement to purchase the vehicle for residual value was an option that a reasonable lessee may not necessarily have exercised.

It is also important to note, that based on the terms of the agreement, upon default[14], the bankrupt has no obligations beyond monthly payments and possible mileage and excessive wear and use charges. This reflects the terms in the lease agreement analyzed in Ambassador Graphic Arts Supplies Ltd., Re, 1995 CarswellOnt 368, [1995] O.J. No. 4549, 32 C.B.R. (3d) 180, 56 A.C.W.S. Ct.).

[14] Richard McLaren, supra 3 p 14: "A default clause in a lease may provide that the option price will become due upon default. Although this type of default clause will support the conclusion that the lease is in actuality a financing transaction, the B.C. Court of Appeal noted that default remedies cannot, by themselves, be determinative of whether a lease is a true lease or a security lease. Default rights and remedies have corroborative value and are relevant to the extent that they help to tip the balance, but they cannot alone decide the characterization of the issue, as the other provisions in the leases are the ones which in practice govern the relationship of the parties."

The instant lease is, by its terms, what is known as a "walk away lease". There is nothing which indicates that the vehicle described in the lease is intended ultimately to pass to the lessee with the terms of the lease, that is, monthly payment are negotiated and the option afforded to the lessee after purchase is calculated on a statistical basis. At 42 per cent of the list price the option bears a strong resemblance to the fair market value of the vehicle after its use during the term.

For greater certainty, nothing herein shall limit the Purchaser in respect of obligations required to be performed after the Closing of the Transaction under the Assumed Contracts other than in respects of items (i) to (v) above.

11. THIS COURT ORDERS that if an Assumed Contract is removed from the Purchased Assets in accordance with the Sale Agreement, such contract shall cease to be an Assumed Contract for purposes of this Order.

Re: In the Matter of the Bankruptcy of 11449346 Canada Inc. ("P3") and 12574764 Canada Ltd. ("United Edge" and, together with P3, the "Debtors") - BK-25-03207793-0033 and BK-25-03207766-0033

As you know, we are counsel to Albert Gelman Inc. in its capacity as trustee in bankruptcy (the "Trustee") of the Debtors. We are writing in response to your letter dated July 28, 2026, and the position taken by your client, Surgenor National Leasing Limited ("Surgenor") in respect of the Trustee's Motion initially scheduled for August 5, 2026.

We understand that your client's position is that Surgenor's interest in its security is in the nature of a true lease and, as a result, Surgenor is entitled to 100% of the proceeds of its security, as opposed to the distribution contemplated by the Trustee's Secured Claim Distribution Scheme, which provides for distribution of proceeds of its security to Surgenor after payment of the Trustee's fees and Canada Revenue Agency's deemed trust claim.

Surgenor's position is wrong in law and will be rejected by the Court for the following reasons.

A. Surgenor is estopped from asserting ownership of its security and its position is a collateral attack on several prior Court orders

The time for Surgenor to assert an ownership interest in its security has long since passed. The position that Surgenor is now taking is a collateral attack on several prior Court orders that are inherently inconsistent with this position.

On July 30, 2025, the Court made orders (1) approving the sale of all of the Debtors' assets and (2) authorizing the Trustee to make payments from the sale proceeds on account of its fees, the fees of its counsel, the fees of the Debtors' counsel and amounts outstanding to the debtor-in-possession financier in accordance with those parties' super-priority charges.[1] Copies of these orders are attached hereto as Schedule A and B. A copy of the relevant proof of service is attached hereto as Schedule C.

On August 11, 2025, this sale transaction closed and the Trustee subsequently paid the above noted amounts to the relevant parties from the sale proceeds.

On August 8, 2025, the Trustee sent a letter to secured creditors of the Debtors, including Surgenor, advising that it intended to bring a motion seeking, among other things, a first-priority charge on the property of the Debtors to secure its fees and disbursements. A copy of this letter is attached hereto as Schedule D.

On August 18, 2025, the Trustee served its materials in connection with its motion for a first-priority charge on the assets of the Debtors for its fees and disbursements. A copy of the cover letter sent to Surgenor enclosing the Trustee's motion materials is attached hereto as Schedule E. A copy of the relevant proof of service is attached hereto as Schedule F.

On August 25, 2025, the Court granted the order sought by the Trustee, which order granted the Trustee and its counsel a first-priority charge on the assets of the Debtors for their fees and disbursements and authorized the Trustee to use the sale proceeds of the Debtors to pay the same.[2] A copy of this order is attached hereto as Schedule G.

Collectively, these orders establish that the sale proceeds are owned by the Debtors in their entirety because the Trustee has been authorized to make several payments on account of priority claims against the Debtors from these sale proceeds, without any segregation or distinction among the proceeds for specific assets or security (save for the reservation of rights in favour of Royal Bank of Canada, which does not apply to Surgenor).

Together with the Approval and Vesting Order which conveyed title to the security to the purchaser, these orders necessarily determined and established that P3 owned the relevant security in which Surgenor now claims ownership.

For Surgenor to now claim that it is entitled to 100% of the proceeds of its security on account of its purported ownership interest in the same is inconsistent with the effect of those court orders and therefore represents a collateral attack on the same.

[1] See paragraph 8 of the Ancillary Relief Order of Justice Kershman dated July 30, 2025.
[2] See, generally, Order re. Termination of Proposal Period and Charge of Justice Kershman dated August 25, 2025.

Surgenor has had notice of these orders, and the payments out of the proceeds contemplated by the same, for approximately one year. It is simply too late for Surgenor to assert that, in effect, it should be entitled to monies that were paid by the Trustee under the authority of a Court order many months ago.

B. In any event, Surgenor has no ownership interest in the proceeds of its security

Even if Surgenor were not estopped from asserting an ownership interest in the proceeds of its security, as set out above, Surgenor's lease with P3 was not a true lease and Surgenor therefore does not have an ownership interest in its security.

Rather, Surgenor's lease with P3 was in the nature of a financing lease. Surgenor's interest in its security was therefore in the nature of a security interest only.

As noted in Crate Marine, determining whether a lease is in the nature of a financing lease or true lease depends on whether the lease "secures payment or performance of an obligation," as opposed to being payment for use of a chattel during a specified term.[3]

The following factors clearly establish that Surgenor's lease is in the nature of a financing lease, each of which factors have been recognized in the case law as supporting the same conclusion:

1. The lease enabled P3 to build up equity in the security by crediting lease payments against the amount due should P3 exercise an option to purchase, which option to purchase is not based on the fair market value of the security at the time of exercising same;

2. The lease contemplated that the security would be at the risk of P3;

3. The calculation of monthly lease payments is not based on the use of the security, but appears to reflect the amortization of the purchase price of the security; and

4. On default, the lease contemplates that Surgenor is entitled to return of the security, is entitled to the proceeds of sale and is entitled to collect from P3 any deficiency. This suggests that the equipment was serving as security for an independent payment obligation by P3 to Surgenor.[4]

While the lease does state that title to the equipment is retained by Surgenor, case law has emphasized that it is the substance of the relationship created by a lease that determines whether it

[3] Crate Marine, 2015 ONSC 3338 at para 2.
[4] Crate Marine, 2015 ONSC 3338 at para 26. See also Lease Agreement, paragraph 11 (Default), and paragraph 14 (All Risk); Lease Agreement, Schedule A, paragraph 3 (Monthly Payment Calculation) and paragraph 6 (Early Termination) is a true lease or a financing lease.[5] As noted above, the substance of the lease clearly contemplates that Surgenor's interest in the equipment is in the nature of security for P3's payment obligations to Surgenor.

Accordingly, the equipment was properly considered part of P3's estate and Surgenor's entitlement to the proceeds of the same is subject to claims of other parties that are in priority to Surgenor, including the Trustee, its counsel and the CRA. Such outcome is reflected in the Trustee's proposed scheme of distribution.

As a result of the foregoing, we trust that it is clear that Surgenor has no hope of success in challenging the Trustee's proposed scheme of distribution.

If Surgenor insists on proceeding with its opposition to the Trustee's motion, then the Trustee will be left with no choice but to seek its costs against Surgenor.

If the Trustee is required to take this step, the Trustee will seek its costs on an elevated scale and rely on this letter in support of the same.

If, on the other hand, Surgenor confirms that it will not be opposing the Trustee's motion by no later than August 13, 2026, then the Trustee will not seek any costs against Surgenor in connection with its motion.

Yours very truly,

Dear Counsel:

Re: Proposed motion in the matter of the notices of intention to make a proposal to creditors of 11449346 Canada inc. o/a P3 Panel Company and 12574764 Canada Ltd. o/a United Edge Structural Components (together, the "Companies") - BK25-00000237-0033

I am counsel to Albert Gelman Inc. (the "Proposal Trustee") in its capacity as proposal trustee of the Companies.

I understand that you are counsel to/a representative of a secured creditor of one or both of the Companies. I write concerning a forthcoming motion that the Proposal Trustee intends to commence in this matter.

As you know, on July 30, 2025, the Ontario Superior Court of Justice approved a transaction (the "Transaction") for the sale of substantially all of the assets of the Companies, which Transaction is expected to result in cash proceeds that will be subject to the claims of the Companies' creditors. The completion of the Transaction is presently scheduled for August 11, 2025.

If and when the Transaction closes, the Proposal Trustee intends to facilitate the distribution of its proceeds to creditors through an assignment of the Companies into bankruptcy. However, at present, the Proposal Trustee does not have any independent funding to fund its professional fees during the pendency of such a bankruptcy.

Accordingly, the Proposal Trustee intends to bring a motion returnable August 25, 2025 seeking (1) an order terminating the stay of proceedings in favour of the Companies and assigning the Companies into bankruptcy, with Albert Gelman Inc. appointed as trustee in bankruptcy and (2) a priority charge on the estates of the Companies in favour of the professional fees of Albert Gelman Inc. in its role as trustee in bankruptcy of the companies, as well as the professional fees of its counsel.

In the view of the Proposal Trustee, such relief is in the best interests of the stakeholders of the Companies, including their secured creditors. A priority charge in favour of the trustee in bankruptcy will ensure that Albert Gelman Inc. is funded to facilitate the efficient distribution of the proceeds of the Transaction, taking advantage of the familiarity and knowledge of the Companies that Albert Gelman Inc. has developed during its tenure as Proposal Trustee.

In the alternative to this relief, and in light of the fact that, but for this relief, Albert Gelman Inc. will not be able to fund its professional fees or that of its counsel, the Proposal Trustee intends to seek its discharge and an Order directing it to pay the proceeds of the Transaction into Court.

Please advise forthwith whether you/your clients, as secured creditors of the Companies take issue with the foregoing relief.

Yours very truly,
Paliare Roland Rosenberg Rothstein LLP

ORDER (TERMINATION OF PROPOSAL PERIOD AND CHARGE)

THIS MOTION, made by Albert Gelman Inc. ("AGI"), in its capacity as proposal trustee (the "Proposal Trustee") of 11449346 Canada Inc. o/a P3 Panel Company and 12574764 Canada Ltd. o/a United Edge Structural Components (together, the "Companies"), for an order, among other things, (a) terminating the period for the Companies to make proposals pursuant to s. 50.4(11) of the Bankruptcy and Insolvency Act (the "BIA") and (b) granting AGI, in its capacity as trustee in bankruptcy of the Companies, a first priority charge on the assets of the Companies to secure AGI's reasonable professional fees and disbursements (and those of its counsel) and, in the alternative, an order discharging AGI as Proposal Trustee, was heard this day by judicial videoconference in Ottawa, Ontario,

ON READING the Fifth Report of the Proposal Trustee dated August 15, 2025 (the "Fifth Report") and on hearing the submissions of counsel to the Proposal Trustee and the other parties listed on the counsel slip,

1. THIS COURT ORDERS that the period for the Companies to make proposals is hereby terminated pursuant to s. 50.4.(11) of the BIA.

2. THIS COURT ORDERS that AGI, in its capacity as trustee in bankruptcy of the Companies, and its counsel are entitled to the benefit of and are hereby granted a charge (the "Trustee Charge") on all of the Companies' current and future assets, undertakings and properties of every nature and kind whatsoever and wherever situate including all proceeds therefore (the "Property"), as security for payment of their reasonable professional fees and disbursements incurred at their standard rates and charges in respect of AGI's appointment as trustee in bankruptcy of one or both of the Companies, as such fees and disbursements are authorized pursuant to the BIA.

3. THIS COURT ORDERS that the filing, registration or perfection of the Trustee Charge shall not be required, and that the Trustee Charge shall be valid and enforceable for all purposes, including as against any right, title or interest filed, registered, recorded or perfected prior to or subsequent to the Trustee Charge coming into existence, notwithstanding any such failure to file, register, record or perfect.

4. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Trustee Charge shall constitute a charge on the Property and shall rank in priority to all other security interest, trusts, liens, charges and encumbrances, claims of secured creditors, statutory or otherwise (collectively, "Encumbrances") in favour of any individual, firm, corporation, governmental body or agency, or any other entities including, for certainty, any and all Encumbrances created by the Order of the Honourable Justice Kershman, dated April 9, 2025.

5. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Trustee Charge shall not be rendered invalid or unenforceable and the rights and remedies of the chargees entitled to the benefit of the Trustee Charge (collectively, the "Chargees") shall not otherwise be limited or impaired in any way by (i) the pendency of these proceedings and the declarations of insolvency made herein; (ii) any application(s) for bankruptcy order(s) issued pursuant to BIA, or any bankruptcy order made pursuant to such applications; (iii) the filing of any assignments for the general benefit of creditors made pursuant to the BIA; (iv) the provisions of any federal or provincial statutes; (v) the deemed assignment of the Companies pursuant to s. 50.4(8) of the BIA; or (vi) any negative covenants, prohibitions or other similar provisions with respect to borrowings, incurring debt or the creation of Encumbrances, contained in any existing loan documents, lease, sublease, offer to lease or other agreement (each, an "Agreement") which binds the Companies, and notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in any Agreement:

(a) the creation of the Trustee Charge shall not create or be deemed to constitute a breach by the Companies of any Agreement to which they are a party;

(b) none of the Chargees shall have any liability to any Person whatsoever as a result of any breach of any Agreement caused by or resulting from the creation of the Trustee Charge; and

(c) the granting of the Trustee Charge does not and will not constitute preferences, fraudulent conveyances, transfers at undervalue, oppressive conduct, or other challengeable or voidable transactions under any applicable law.

6. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Trustee Charge created by this Order over leases of real property in Canada shall only be a Charge in the Companies' interest in such real property leases.

7. THIS COURT ORDERS that AGI, in its capacity as Proposal Trustee or trustee in bankruptcy of the Companies, may from time to time apply to this Court for advice and directions in the discharge of its powers and duties under this Order.

8. THIS COURT ORDERS that, for greater certainty, nothing in this Order shall derogate from the Proposal Trustee's obligations and the parties' reservation of rights provided for in paragraph 4 of the Approval and Vesting Order of the Honourable Justice Kershman dated July 30, 2025.

9. THIS COURT ORDERS that the Fifth Report, and the activities of the Proposal Trustee described therein, are hereby approved, provided, however, that only the Proposal Trustee in its personal capacity and only with respect to its own personal liability, shall be entitled to rely upon or utilize in any way such approval.

10. THIS COURT ORDERS that the fees and disbursements of the Proposal Trustee and its counsel as set out in the Fee Affidavits (as this term is defined in the Fifth Report) are hereby approved including:

(a) $20,000 in estimated fees (exclusive of disbursements and HST) of the Proposal Trustee as reflected in the Trustee Fee Accrual (as this term is defined in the Fifth Report); and

11. THIS COURT ORDERS that neither the Proposal Trustee nor its counsel shall be required to pass their accounts in respect of any further fees and disbursements incurred in connection with these proceedings, up to the amounts reflected in the Fee Accruals (as this term is defined in the Fifth Report).

12. THIS COURT ORDERS that this Order and all of its provisions are effective as of 12:01 a.m. Eastern Time on the date of this Order, without the need for entry and filing.
